Hearts Courageous

M. Armand looked at his antagonist with undisguised contempt, and murmurs of the assembly, who loved fair play, were so unmistakable that Rolph drew out bills and indenture with a curse and drove off with a black look.

Anne watched him go, a curl on her lip. When she turned at Betsy's exclamation it was first to be aware that all on the wharf were looking her way, that some of them were smiling and then that the young Frenchman, with the redemptioner woman following him, was approaching her.

Before she had recovered from her astonishment he was bowing low. "Mademoiselle," he said, "will pardon the liberty I take in addressing her?"

She bowed coldly, half startled.

"Fate," he went on, "has made me the owner of this servant, for whom, being no landholder, I have scant use. She speaks a strange tongue and is in a strange land, and to free her without bond time were small kindness. May I beg the favor, mademoiselle, that you take her in your service, demanding such labor as will requite her support?"

The indignant color flooded Anne's brow. "Sir," she said frigidly, drawing herself up, "we have strange surprises in Virginia, but surely the effrontery of our visitors surpasses them all."

Armand looked clearly at her out of his dark eyes. "Mademoiselle will pardon," he answered, "the error of one of these visitors, who, seeing her face, has overestimated her graciousness and charity."

With this he bowed again till his hat swept the ground, and, followed by the bondwoman, walked down the wharf toward the unlading vessel.

The red in Anne's cheeks had grown to firebrands and her anger lent sting to the half concealed smirks of those who stood nearest.

"Land of mercy!" said Betsy, with emphasis. "What impudence!"

Soon the curious crowd was thinning, Betsy's search was ended, and Anne, having left her seat in the coach, watched at nearer view the disgorging of the cargo.

Here Brooke came primed with a new sensation. This now nothing less than the tale of a fight which had occurred during the voyage between the mate of the vessel and a passenger. Anne's eyes were very soft as he finished.

"And who d'ye think," he ended, "was this champion? Why, the young Frenchman yonder that you crushed so mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson."

"And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread.

"'Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph."

"Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid self reproach.

"Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made no movement as she came.

"Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.

His hat was in his hand instantly, and he was gravely deferential.

"I wish to take back," she went on, "my words of awhile ago. I assure you they were not rudely meant. I"—

He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak thus? I was brusque, unmannerly"—

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—forgot that I had not the joy of knowing her—forgot everything but what I saw in her face as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know all who are lovely and gracious of heart."

"I was wrong," she said proudly. "And for this I ask your pardon. May—may I have the bond servant?"

He smiled gayly now and bowed low to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad of wounds," he cried. "You recompense me a thousand times!"

He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on ahead a-pillion she went without question.

Betsy watched this transaction open mouthed.

"Did you ever!" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"

Armand had stepped to position, hat under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?" he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned, a delicate flush coming to her cheek—a flush that deepened to damask at his look. She hesitated an instant as if about to speak, then suddenly entered, sat down, gave the word to the driver and was whirled away. The secretary stood looking after the retreating chariot.

"A splendid creature," purred Brooke, at his elbow, "albeit you found her wintry."

"Wintry!" exclaimed the young man. "She who is made only of summer, its incense, its colors, its dreams! Yours is an enchanted land, monsieur, and she its goddess!"

"Egad, I'll make a sonnet of that!" exclaimed Brooke. "Sink me, but it's coming back!" The latter remark was applied to the chariot, which had turned and was now approaching more slowly the spot where they stood.

As it drew up Anne leaned from the window. "Monsieur," she called, "I had quite forgot to speak of the indenture."

He drew it from his pocket and held it out to her.

"Such have to be conveyed, I make sure," she said, looking at it doubtfully. "Your delicacy, sir, forbade you to set me right. We shall have to sign and witness a deed and what not, I suppose."

"'Tis a plain indenture," said Brooke, peering.

She drew it away sharply. "Alas, we women know so little of business. I bethink me my father will wish to receipt to you for it."

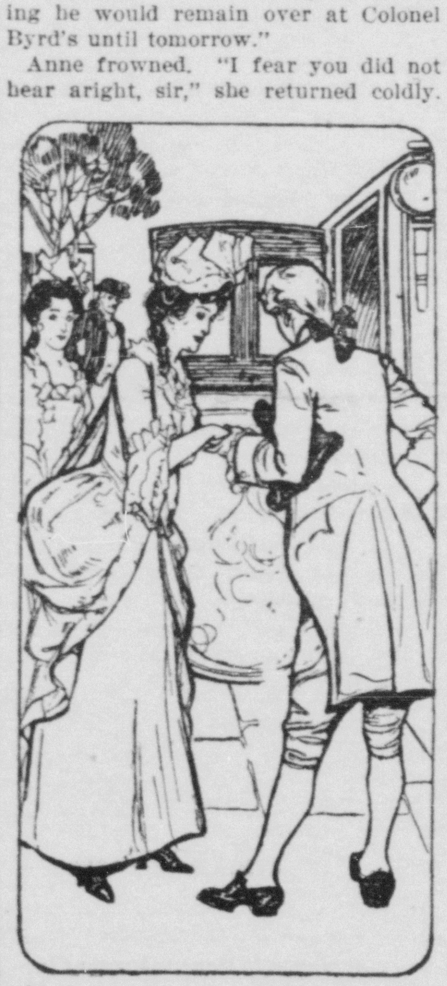
"Mademoiselle"—

"Aye, but he will. At any rate, you would not be so ungallant as to have me blamed, sir? Will you not ride to Gladden Hall with me? 'Tis scarce a half league away."

"Mademoiselle!"

"Your father is in Williamsburg, mistress," ventured the exquisite. "I chanced to overhear him say this morning he would remain over at Colonel Byrd's until tomorrow."

Anne frowned. "I fear you did not hear aright, sir," she returned coldly.



"Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"

Then, with an enchanting smile, she opened the coach door and made room for the secretary beside her. "I await you, monsieur," she said, her eyes like fringed gentians. He bowed to her with a new light on his face, entered and closed the door.

"Home, Rashleigh!" she cried to the driver, and the heavy coach rolled away.

"Wintry," said the fop to himself, with a chuckle. "Methinks report does the lady wrong."

Jarrat meanwhile had been sitting in the skipper's dingy cabin, for Master Elves had now transferred responsibility to the ship's agent, his face properly smoothed to good fellowship over a noggin of rum from the locker. He had long ago cultivated a new affability with the master of the Two Sisters. Now he had an errand, though he was somewhat long in coming to the point.

"The Marquis de la Trouerie," he said finally and in a purely casual way as he smacked his lips. "It was nigh two months since that he died, if I remember."

The mariner took down his log from the shelf and, turning it with a hairy thumb, pushed it across the board. The other looked at it closely and laid the book open before him. Incidentally he filled up the glasses. "Knew you aught of his affairs in this colony?" he queried.

One might have noticed that the eyes opposite narrowed perceptibly.

"Not I," answered the skipper. "I hold to my own helm."

"A close tongue," vouchsafed Jarrat, "makes a wide purse."

The drift of this succinct remark was not lost upon his companion, who discreetly kept his eyes upon his glass.

The speaker continued, dropping his voice and leaning on the table: "The marquis and I had somewhat of business together, although we never met. In fact, I made this voyage at his own request. Now, to be frank, the news of his death will not aid a mutual venture of ours here in Virginia, which, for my part, has gone too far for backing. Zooks! A mortal pity to publish it!"

There were interest and speculation in the narrow eyes if nothing more. Something jingled. It may have been the visitor's sword knot or a hand in a pocket. The skipper was not deaf.

"The passengers?" he hazarded.

"They are off for the north today. Boston blab will not hurt me. 'Tis the gazettes here I care about. As for the factors, they are bent on business. Our young Virginia woolsack has gone to Pennsylvania. I'll risk him."

"There's the marquis' secretary."

Jarrat snapped his fingers. "He'll be cheap. I know the breed. A leaf lost from a log is no great matter," he continued slowly as though to himself. Again the jingle. The skipper cleared his throat.

Jarrat's hand slowly, very slowly, tore out the leaf, folded it and placed it in his pocketbook. Yellow disks passed across the table.

"I'll be keel hauled if I see your game," said the skipper.

The other smiled. "I'll be keel hauled if I see why you should," said he.

Brooke was scarce done twisting his lovelock when Jarrat crossed the wharf from the ship hot from his bargain with the skipper. He made inquiries concerning a young gentleman dressed in gray and by good luck hit upon an apprentice lad who told him he had carried the young gentleman's chest to the Swan tavern, at which he had been directed to bespeak supper and lodging.

"I am well now and enjoying better health than ever before in my whole life."

That is the statement of a woman who had never been well until she was made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There are a great many other women in like case. They have always been sufferers from disease. They have never known the joy of perfect health.

For all such women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds out the prospect of perfect and permanent health, by the cure of the womanly diseases which weaken women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"It gives me pleasure to let you know of the great benefit received from Dr. Pierce's medicines and the advice which you so kindly sent," writes Mrs. Bertie Parker, of Bonham, Fannin Co., Texas. "I took your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and followed your advice regarding the 'Lotion Tablets,' and am cured. I had been treated by different doctors and spent one hundred dollars for treatment and medicine, but received very little relief. I have only spent seventeen dollars and fifty cents for your medicine and it has cured me in three or four months of ulceration and falling of uterus. I suffered severe misery in my back, also irregular periods. Had bearing-down in lower portion of body and great pain all through my body. Pain in uterus was very severe. Had smothering spells, breath was very short all the time, had pain in stomach, pain in my thighs, pain in breast, also between my shoulders. Bowels constipated. I am well now and enjoying better health than ever before in my whole life. Am happy to tell you that I was cured by your good advice and good medicines, the 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Pleasant Pellets' and 'Lotion Tablets.' These medicines cured me and will cure others also."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

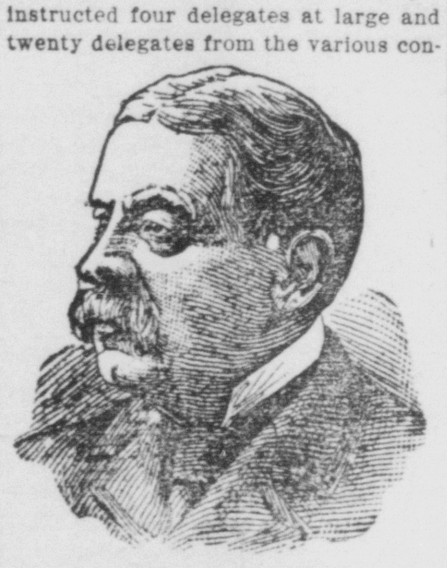
Massachusetts Democrats Sit Down on Gotham Man's Aspirations.

Boston, April 22.—By an overwhelming vote the Massachusetts Democratic convention at Tremont Temple instructed four delegates at large and twenty delegates from the various congressional districts of the state to support Richard Olney of this city for the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention at St. Louis next July.



RICHARD OLNEY.

The supporters of William R. Hearst of New York as the presidential nominee were defeated by a vote of about 600 to 200. A resolution endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Hearst was voted down by a very large majority.

George Fred Williams, the leader of that faction of the Massachusetts Democracy supporting the candidacy of William R. Hearst, made a vigorous protest against the adoption of the unit rule, but the convention by a vote of nearly 3 to 1 refused to strike from the platform the clause calling for unanimous action with reference to presidential nominees, and after adopting the resolutions presented by the majority of its committee, on motion of Josiah Quincy, voted that the unit rule govern not only the support of Mr. Olney, but all matters pertaining to the convention.

The platform adopted consisted of a single plank—an indorsement of Mr. Olney's candidacy and instructions to the delegates to vote as a unit for him.

There are but four counties that have not selected delegates to the Republican state convention. They are Marion, Vigo, Putnam and Jefferson, which hold their conventions Saturday. The chief interest is in the result here. Of course Taylor is expecting a solid delegation, but the other candidates for governor are dipping in their oars as deeply as possible for the purpose of being second choice. Then the candidates for other places are busily engaged in trying to get their friends on the delegations. In several wards there will be a fierce fight, as there are three or four slates.

RUSSIANS FLEEING

Precipitate Flight on the Part of the Czar's Troops Is Reported.

HUNDREDS ARE LOST

Flight Across the Yalu River In Overcrowded Boats Attended by a Heavy Rate of Mortality.

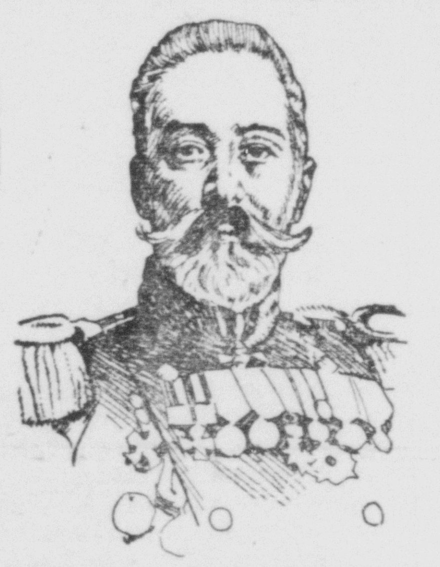
Port Arthur Harbor Is Blocked--Jap Troops Being Reinforced--- Russia's Latest Plan.

New Chwang, Apr. 22—A messenger has arrived here from the Yalu with the information that the Russians are fleeing north across the river in overcrowded boats and are losing hundreds by drowning.

Tien Tsin, April 22.—Japanese troops are now embarking from Korea and possibly are being reinforced by the forces on the Yalu river, from which the Russians have practically withdrawn.

Tokio, April 22.—Port Arthur is undoubtedly effectually blocked. Events are culminating around the doomed fortress.

St. Petersburg, April 22.—The admiralty, it is announced, intends to fit out two ships purchased from Germany, which formerly were in the trans-Atlantic service, together with a number of ships of the volunteer fleet, with rapid-fire guns and to send them to the Pacific to prey upon Japanese commerce. The admiralty believes that by this means it can prevent the resumption of operations by the Japanese commercial fleet and strike a hard blow against Japan's hope of maintaining her resources for the prosecution of the war.



REAR ADMIRAL GRIGOROVITCH.

It is authoritatively stated that Russia has been offered through a well-known New York firm two 7,000-ton and two 3,000-ton cruisers belonging to a South American republic, but has declined the offer.

In order to harmonize the army and navy operations Vice Admiral Skrydloff will stop at Liao Yang on his way to Port Arthur to confer with General Kuropatkin. The admiral and the general are warm personal friends, and both are completely independent of the viceroy. In spite of the bad relations between Skrydloff and Alexieff, pressure is being brought to bear to prevent the viceroy's immediate return to the Russian capital.

All information in possession of the general staff indicates that the Japanese are preparing to make a landing near Takushan. The lights of Japanese ships have been observed there for several nights, and it is believed that the debarkation of the troops has been delayed only by the bad weather, which has prevented the assembling of the junks and other small craft on which the troops must be carried across the stretch of shallow water which extends several miles from the shore. It is believed that the Japanese will experience great difficulty in debarking if their landing is resisted. A prominent naval attache who is familiar with the coast says a battalion with rapid-fire and machine guns could keep off an army corps, as the warships would have to lie too far out to effectively protect a landing.

Fell Into Enemy's Hands.

Harbin, Manchuria, April 22.—The two officers of the Japanese general staff, a colonel and a captain, who were arrested by the railroad guard eighteen miles from this place on April 16, were found builty by a courtmartial and sentenced to be hanged. The officers listened quietly to the sentence of the court, but subsequently asked that their lives be spared. General Kuropatkin confirmed the findings of the court, but, taking into consideration the fact that the accused were soldiers, he ordered that they should be shot instead of hanged.

BOMBARDMENT THREATENED

Nicaraguans Brought to Face the Ire of John Bull.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 22.—The British cruiser Retribution, which under instructions from the imperial government, sailed from Kingston April 11 for a Nicaraguan port in connection with the seizure of six Cayaman turtle schooners and the arrest of their crews by Nicaraguan officials, has returned to Port Royal from the Nicaraguan coast, after ascertaining that the vessels and crews had been sent to Bluefields. The captain of the Retribution accused the Nicaraguan commandant, under whose orders the schooners were seized, of piracy. There is consternation among the Nicaraguan officials over the affair.

It was necessary for the Retribution to return to Port Royal to coal, but the cruiser will sail for Bluefields tomorrow to demand the release of the prisoners and the boats, and also compensation for their illegal seizure and detention. It is rumored that should it be found necessary, the Retribution will bombard the port of Bluefields.

PENSION BILL PASSED

This Measure Carries With It More Than $137,000,000.

Washington, April 22.—The pension appropriation bill, carrying an appropriation of over $137,000,000, and the emergency river and harbor appropriation bill, which carries $3,000,000, were passed by the senate, leaving only the general deficiency and the military academy bills of the entire list of supply measures still to be considered by the senate. While the river and harbor measure was under consideration Mr. Gorman sharply criticized the failures to bring in a general river and harbor bill.

The house gave evidence of approaching adjournment by passing a large number of bills, among them being one to provide a temporary government for the Panama canal zone. A rule was adopted after the Democrats had forced a roll-call for the consideration at any time of the bill creating a commission to investigate the merchant marine of the United States, and the bill was then laid aside.

The Defense in Seward Case.

Danville, Ind., April 22.—The trial of Henry Seward on the charge of murdering his wife, near Fern, on the evening of May 16 last year, is more than half way to the end. The prosecution has in all the evidence it has against the prisoner. For nearly seven days the state's attorneys have been piling up evidence against the defendant in an effort to convince the jury that he killed Mrs. Seward. The defense has now begun to introduce evidence in an effort to prove the innocence of the defendant.

Fire Loss at Newberry.

Lyons, Ind., April 22.—A fire at Newberry, this county, destroyed Scott's hardware store, Johnson & Benjamin's dry goods establishment and the Masonic lodge equipments, occupying upper rooms in the last named building.

A RELUCTANT WITNESS

Angus M. Cannon Doesn't Like to Talk About His Harem.

Washington, April 22.—The feature of the hearing in the Smoot case before the senate committee on privileges and elections was the testimony of Angus M. Cannon, for twenty-five years president of the largest Mormon stake in the world. The testimony was of a personal character, dealing with the conviction of the witness on charges of polygamous cohabitation, and was dragged from him under protest that he be protected from any peril or liability to prosecution for what he revealed. When assured that his plural marriages, under the statute of limitations, could not be used as evidence against him, he answered most of the questions asked. The same frankness was not apparent, however, when the witness was pressed to reveal the nature of the oath he had taken in the endowment house. Like other witnesses, he declared that the sacredness of that oath prevented him from proclaiming it to the world. His testimony was no less sensational than that given by President Smith early in the investigation. He answered all questions of a personal character, but every admission was made reluctantly, and replies to questions in regard to his numerous marriages were as near monosyllabic as it was possible to make them. Cannon testified that he had married six wives, all of whom are living.

Evansville Excited.

Evansville, Ind., April 22.—The torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence arrived here last night and will remain until tomorrow. Hundreds of people greeted her as she came into port.

Cracksmen blew the safe of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank at Clay City, Ind., and, securing $5,281.00, made good their escape, leaving no clue.

Burglars bound and gagged three persons in the office of the Pittsburg filtration commission and then blew open the safe. There were three burglars and they got thirty cents.

The most conservative estimates now place the Toronto fire loss at $13,000,000. In the fourteen acres which the fire scourged, 222 firms were put out of business and 123 buildings destroyed.

STORY OF A TIRED-OUT MINISTER

"I OWE YOU my heartfelt gratitude," said a minister to one of our representatives recently, "for insisting on my trying a bottle of Rexall Mucu-Tone. You know I am not at all addicted to the medicine habit, and I was rather skeptical of the merits of Mucu-Tone. Still, you urged me, and I could see no harm in trying it. Since then I have used three bottles, and have recommended it to I don't know how many people.

"I am convinced that you were right when you told me that I had some kind of catarrh—of the kidneys, I judge, from the terrible backache I experienced, yet I had supposed that catarrh was a disease of the nose and head only. I have read the Mucu-Tone booklet, however, and I can now understand how catarrh attacks any part of the mucous membrane.

"Rexall Mucu-Tone is wonderful. I am using it three times a day, and have not felt so well in years. It is giving me strength, and I believe I am adding some flesh."

How many churchgoers realize the strain under which their pastor labors?

How many appreciate the fatigue that follows his Sunday work? The nerve-racking, brain-wearing duties that endure from week's end to week's end, from the beginning of the year to the close, and from one year to another?

But this cannot go on forever. Sooner or later a minister so pressed feels his energies waning. After a while there is a break-down—a physical and mental collapse. If he could only get out into the country for a month or two of absolute rest, but—why suggest such an impossible thing! We know that no minister can spare the time for this. Neither can any other business or professional man. The next best thing is to replenish the waning vitality by artificial means—to help Nature in her efforts to supply energy and nerve power.

Our new remedy, Rexall Mucu-Tone, does this.

Physical and mental exhaustion is due to a catarrhal congestion of the mucous membranes. Rexall Mucu-Tone cures it by cleansing these membranes, driving out the poisons and allaying the inflammation. It also revitalizes the blood, steadies the fagged nerves and builds up the body.

We ask you who are weak, nervous and in need of new energy to give Mucu-Tone a trial. Then if you are not more than satisfied we will give you back your money.

Large bottle, 89 cents. Sold only at our store.

SSS THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic suited to every requirement of the system when in a debilitated, run down condition. It contains no strong minerals or drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no better remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep when in a low state of health, or sick and worn out with work or worry.

S. S. S. improves the appetite, aids the digestion and reinforces the system, and its good effects are seen almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, drowsiness and dizziness that so often come after eating.

I have no hesitancy in recommending your S. S. S. as the best Spring tonic on the market. I have used many other medicines, but find S. S. S. to be undoubtedly the only tonic that will build up the system. I shall take pleasure in telling all whom I think in need of a good blood tonic of your medicine.

Yours truly, LEWIS S. FIEBER,
Care Stoll, Hamilton & Co. Lexington, Ky.

S. S. S. is not only the best tonic but possesses alterative or purifying properties, and if there is any taint, humor or poison in the blood it searches it out, and removes it. Many times a low state of health is due to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by a blood purifier and tonic combined, or such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing will so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up the system as S. S. S.

THE republican state convention next week promises to be the largest political convention ever held in Indiana.

SEYMOUR is a goodly city and men of progressive business ideas should govern it. Elect the republican ticket and that sort of men will be in charge.

A BILL for $400 for that fire hose purchased of the highest bidder is in the hands of the city clerk and payment will be due at the next council meeting.

JUST about a week ago Wesner wrote and had published some editorial puffs about himself. They didn't seem to take very well and were not repeated. He concluded to stick to his visiting cards.

THE republican city ticket is made up of good material all the way through. This is a ticket that every voter can support and no apology to make. Such men commend themselves to the intelligence of the voters.

SINCE the returns from the various counties are coming in, the Parker contingent in Indiana is not quite so certain as it was about the advisability of applying the unit gag rule on the Indiana delegation. There is a certain story in the Bible about a man named Haman who was compelled to use for himself the funeral arrangements he had provided for another party.

MR. PETTIGREW, once a United States senator, announces that he will bolt if Grover Cleveland should be nominated by the Democrats for the presidency. Very well; why make a fuss about it? Didn't Grover Cleveland bolt when Bryan was nominated? And wouldn't he bolt again if Bryan were nominated again? And is there anything in the constitution to prohibit Mr. Pettigrew from bolting if he wants to?

MANY a disaster has come to the democratic party in the last half century, but the worst thing that has befallen it since the civil war was when it very foolishly got elected in 1892. Then it exposed itself in a way that it will not recover from for years, if ever. Why should it go into the campaign of 1904 at all? It can't afford to be elected if it has any regard for its own future, and the people, remembering the panic from 1893 to 1897, can not afford to have it succeed.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

SEYMOUR never had a more faithful and efficient officer than Thos. J. Clark, city treasurer. The people believe in him and will make him his own successor.

THE republican candidate for city clerk, Fred Everback, is a hustling and progressive young man and will fill the office to which he aspires with perfect satisfaction to everybody. Give him your support and vote.

Judge Anderson Sentences the Three Elkhart Bank Wreckers.

BRODRICK IS SCORED

The Court Heaped On President of Defunct Bank the Bulk of Blame For the Wreck.

Collins Was Held to be a Tool In Designing Hands---Brown's Motion Rejected.

Indianapolis, April 22.—J. L. Brodrick, president of the wrecked Indiana National bank at Elkhart, was sentenced by Judge Anderson in the United States district court to ten years' imprisonment in the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. W. L. Collins, cashier of the wrecked bank, was sentenced to six years in the same penitentiary. The judge in sentencing Collins, took into consideration his services to the government as a witness and took the ground that he had been used as a tool. Both received their sentences in a stoical manner and were immediately placed in charge of United States Marshal Pettit. In the case of Walter Brown, the last of the convicted trio, Judge Anderson overruled a motion for a new trial and sentenced him to eight years at Fort Leavenworth. In sentencing Brodrick and giving him the limit of the law, which provides an imprisonment of not less than five nor more than ten years for bank wrecking, such as the Elkhart men were charged with, Judge Anderson summed up Brodrick's case in a scathing manner and heaped on him the bulk of the blame for the bank's collapse.

KLONDIKE KING IS WANTED

Old Trouble in Illinois Has Been Again Revived.

Petersburg, Ind., April 22.—A deputy sheriff from Danville, Ill., arrived here to arrest Frank C. Lory, the "Klondike king." He was armed with a requisition from Governor Winfield T. Durbin, but found that Lory had gone to St. Louis, where he is engaged in the brokerage business. The officer left for St. Louis. Lory is charged with fraud at Danville in some of his gold mine dealings. It will be remembered he is the man that lost $63,500 in a fake footrace at Colorado Springs, something like eighteen months ago, and charged Hovey T. Tislow, a local jeweler of this city, with being one of the men who helped to work the fake up. He procured several indictments against Tislow, but the accused was acquitted with prejudice. Tislow brought suit for $10,000 damages, but the case has never come to trial. Lory was charged by the heirs of Daniel C. Gregg of Danville, Ill., with fraudulently coming into possession of a 1,500-acre farm in the river bottoms below town by trading gold mining stock and guaranteeing a dividend. The dividend failed to materialize and the stock was found to be worthless, and Lory surrendered the farm. He is said to be worth nearly a million dollars, most all of which he made in the gold regions.

Great Jubilee Promised.

Indianapolis, April 22.—Arrangements are being made for the golden jubilee or fiftieth anniversary of the grand commandery of the Knights Templar, to be held in this city May 11. It is promised that this will be the most imposing and most largely attended ceremony in the history of Knights Templar in this state.

WHY THE REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET SHOULD BE ELECTED.

As the day for holding the city election draws nearer the voters of Seymour are beginning to realize more than ever before the importance of electing men for city officers who will conduct the affairs of the city on business principles. It has been demonstrated by past experiences that a municipal office is one that requires a business man to fill it. What we need and what the citizens of Seymour demand is an administration conducted along the lines of business principles. It is not all a question of politics. Many questions present themselves that are not political. Streets have to be repaired. Improvements have to be made. Taxes have to be levied, all of which are questions that have nothing to do with politics, yet they are of vital importance to the citizens in general.

There is no office that requires closer attention than does a municipal office, because upon the shoulders of municipal officers rest the welfare of the municipality. A city that is properly managed is sure to be prosperous and progressive. Seymour is a city that is destined to become the commercial metropolis of Southern Indiana providing it is controlled and managed by business men along business principles. Our railroad facilities are unsurpassed by any city of our size; freight rates are as cheap if not cheaper than elsewhere. We are surrounded by one of the best agricultural communities in the state. Our people are progressive and enterprising.

Under these circumstances and conditions why can not Seymour be made the banner city of Southern Indiana? All that is required is to give us a good business like administration, one that is economical and conducted along the same lines that a successful business man conducts his own private business. If the republican ticket is elected this is the kind of an administration we will have. Dr. George G. Graessle, the republican nominee for mayor, is a man in whom every one has the utmost confidence. A man whose integrity never has been and can not now be questioned even by his most ardent political opponents. He has made a success both professionally and in a business way. He is enterprising and progressive, yet at the same time he uses that degree of conservatism that is necessary for success. The other candidates on the republican ticket are all men of high standing and well qualified to perform the duties of the respective offices to which they aspire. The candidates for council in all of the wards are good conservative business men. If elected to the council they will transact the affairs of the city along the lines of economy and guard the public treasury as a business man guards his purse. There is no reason why the republican ticket should not be elected as it will be. It is made up of good men and the citizens will be given the kind of an administration that they are demanding.

We have faith in the honesty, integrity and business like principles of the voters of Seymour and firmly believe that they will vote for the men who will bring progress into our midst. Elect the republican ticket and Seymour will enter upon a new era of prosperity.

New Machinery.

P. J. O'Conner, the monument dealer, has put in a gasoline engine and compressed air tank and now uses power tools in cutting all his monument work. This is a new departure in applying power to stone cutting and by its use the work of lettering monuments is done much more rapidly than by hand. Mr. O'Conner keeps right up-to-date.

HAD HIGHEST SKILL,

And Yet This Workman Starved to Death.

A pathetic story of hardship and misfortune was told a Republican representative yesterday. It seems a man not far from this city was exceedingly skilful in a certain line of work, but he was so unclean in his habits that his hands were always soiled. Whenever he did a fine piece of work he would be likely to spoil it by getting it spotted and greasy. So at last no one would hire him and he grew so poor he finally died from insufficient nourishment.

"Now," said Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., "there is a parallel case to that one in the field of medicine. It is cod liver oil, which contains medicinal and curative properties to do such splendid work as a body-building, healing, strength-creating tonic medicine, and yet fails because it's greasy, indigestible oil upsets the stomach and hinders these excellent curatives from doing their healing work.

"Like the workman, old-fashioned cod liver oil has 'lost its job,' and few people nowadays have any use for it or emulsions, since Vinol is rapidly taking their place. Vinol is delicious and digested with perfect ease, and at the same time contains all the genuine medicinal curatives, taken direct from fresh cods' livers. Vinol will do more than was ever claimed for old-fashioned cod liver oil, yet it is entirely free from oil and agreeable to the weakest stomach. It is guaranteed to to give strength to the weak, vitalize the aged and cure stubborn colds and hacking coughs, or money will be paid back. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

The Protestant Church.

Concentration of force is power; division is weakness; dualism in church or state means confusion; the strength of the Roman Catholic church is its unity; the weakness of the Protestant church is its heterogeneousness. Democracy with wisdom and unselfishness secures true freedom, but in the hands of the ignorant and selfish it degenerates into anarchy.

The central power in the Protestant church in theory is vested in the pastor, with the officers of the church; but in practice too often each member is a bishop in their own eyes. The Sunday school, young peoples' societies, missionary organizations, each working independently without consultation or advice from those supposed to be in authority. It is a conglomerate; each chief ruling his petty clan. No wonder fights are frequent.

The remedy is loyalty to those in authority; remembering the church is a divine not human institution; established by God for the unifying and building up the members in righteousness and holy living.

To accomplish this God by the Spirit directed that there should be pastor, and elders, bishops and evangelists. These are the authorized teachers, and when their authority is not recognized the church dies spiritually. The Catholic priest is the instructor of the children, hence very few of them wander from the fold.

In many Protestant churches any body and every body may try to teach without being under any one authorized or competent to direct them. How would this principle work in our public schools?

Wisdom says teach the children the truths of the Bible by some well prepared catechism; let all be taught the confessions of faith as set forth by the church, and especially in the "Apostle's Creed." Who can direct this work so well as the person who has spent from seven to ten years of his life in preparation for it? But young peoples' societies, Sunday schools and catechism classes are not enough. Young people and children must attend the church services,—not now and then, but regularly if they are to be of any value to the world as Christians. Those who do not attend the service of the church regularly, (and attending young peoples' meetings and Sunday school is not attending church service,) have no influence as christians for good. Thus religion is a blank.

Colonel Renard, of the French army, known for his experiments with dirigiable balloons, has invented an automobile train in which each car can propel itself. The power is furnished from a locomotive at the head of the train which, however, exerts no pulling force. It simply transmits the the power to each car, and thus each can move itself.

This seems a beautiful theory, and may perhaps be successful. In religion we know it is successful. God in Christ is the source and the only source of power. Church societies and bands are well enough; but each member must move his own car, not by his or her own power but by the power given by God through the Holy Spirit. Where this power rules, love reigns; and no one will try to "lord it over God's heritage," or rule or ruin, but each will study the good and prosperity of the church, and by their presence and service try to do their part, in their place, no matter how lowly it may be. Thus show the world that Christ does make those who truly believe and obey him new creatures. This spirit I think would soon make all men good Catholics.

A Smart Dog.

Billy Shields, the mayor of Rockford, has put a new valuation on his dog all because of an incident Thursday night. As the local freight passed south through Rockford in the evening the conductor's new hat got away and fell by the wayside south of the Rockford depot. When the train came into Seymour the conductor told his troubles to Tom Gore, who telephoned Billy Shields to look for the hat. The dog was near by and heard Mr. Shields tell his wife what had happened and when the door was opened and Mr. Shields started out in search of the hat the dog bounded ahead as if he understood all. He ran down the track two hundred yards and came back with the hat in his mouth and delivered it to his master. Mr. Shields values that dog at $100 today.

The May Success.

It has been said that "Success Magazine" offers a liberal education in the affairs of the world. This is particularly true of the May issue, which contains much interesting and instructive material of universal interest. The leading articles, by Vance Thompson, is first of a series on 'Noted Diplomatic Mysteries," which this author is writing for "Success." "The Limitless Power of a New World-industry," by Frank Fayant, sets forth the claims of the automobile as a factor for better hygienic conditions. An excellent descriptions of the fierce warfare that has been existing in the West for years, between the stockmen and the settlers, for the exclusive possession of Uncle Sam's free pastures is given by J. D. Whelpley, in an article entitled "The Long Fight for Free Grass." There are many other articles of equal merit and interest in this issue.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I run across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."—Miss Alice M. Smith, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses. They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit.

"A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief.

"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women? All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and without hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

MAKING HIM LOOK PLEASANT.

Is an easy thing when we quote our prices on building lumber. A pleasant surprise always awaits the contractor and builder when he visits our yard after getting prices elsewhere and seeing the superior quality of high grade lumber, hard-wood trim, flooring, laths, shingles and that we are selling at bed-rock prices. Our lumber is of high quality, well seasoned and beyond competition, price considered.

Carbarn Bandits Pay the Extreme Penalty For Ferocious Crimes.

NO RESPITE GRANTED

Niedermeyer and Van Dine Both Desperately Fought Sentence to the Last Minute.

Penalty of the Law Exacted of Trio of Worst Murderers In Chicago's History.

Chicago, April 22.—For a crime never paralleled in Chicago's history for murderous ferocity and mercilessness, the penalty of the law was exacted of the carbarn bandits, Niedermeyer, Van Dine and Marx on the scaffold today.

With all hope of clemency gone, the three murderers last night seemed resigned to their fate, and retired early. Governor Yates, following the recommendation of the state board of pardons, declined to stay the execution of Van Dine. The execution of Niedermeyer was threatened with legal interference for a time, when attorneys representing Jas. Sammons and John Lynch, who are under death penalty for the murder of Saloon Keeper Patrick Barrett, began proceedings of a habeas corpus nature. No judge could be found, however, who would agree to grant the request. The lawyers first sought the appointment of a commission to take the evidence of Niedermeyer as to his knowledge of the murder of Barrett. Niedermeyer some time ago made a statement that he and two companions had killed Barrett and that Sammons and Lynch were innocent. When the lawyers failed to have a commission appointed they then filed applications for writs of habeas corpus for Niedermeyer. Judges Clifford, Gary and Brentano, in turn, refused to grant either of the demands of the lawyers, declaring that the writs asked for would not lie because the accused had already been sentenced and no trial was at this time pending.

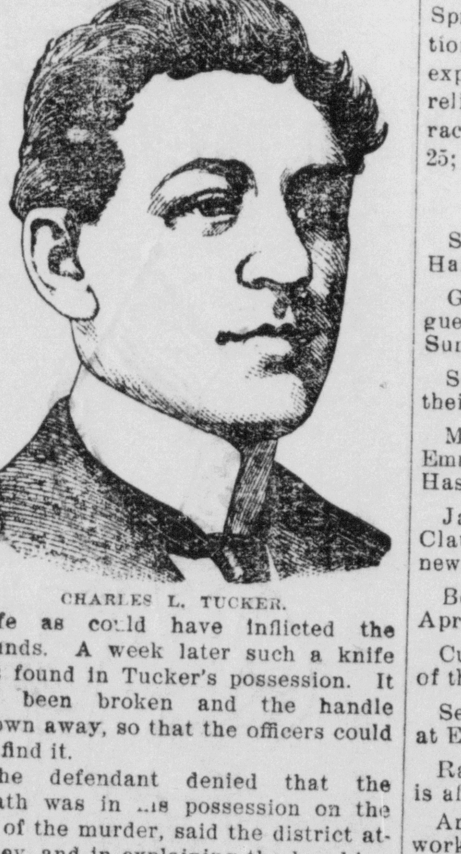
MABEL PAGE CASE

Charles L. Tucker Arraigned on Murder Charge.

Waltham, Mass., April 22.—The case of Charles L. Tucker, accused of the murder of Miss Mabel Page at Weston, is being heard in the district court. District Attorney Sanderson recited the main facts in the case.

Mabel Page was found murdered on the afternoon of March 31. On that day Tucker had in his possession a sheath such as would cover such a knife as could have inflicted the wounds. A week later such a knife was found in Tucker's possession. It had been broken and the handle thrown away, so that the officers could not find it.



CHARLES L. TUCKER.

The defendant denied that the sheath was in his possession on the day of the murder, said the district attorney, and in explaining the breaking of it, said that he broke it so that people would not connect him with the crime. Tucker was near enough, continued Mr. Sanderson, on his own statement, to have done the murder, and on this statement of facts he would ask that Tucker be held for the grand jury.

MOYER GIVEN HEARING

President of Colorado Miners Before Supreme Court.

Denver, Col., April 22.—President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, who arrived in Denver in custody of state troops after several weeks' incarceration at Telluride, where martial law is in force, in consequence of labor troubles, was taken before the state supreme court yesterday afternoon under the writ of habeas corpus issued in his case. At the Oxford hotel he entered a hack with General Sherman M. Bell and Captain Buckley Wells, the respondents to the writ, and the vehicle was driven rapidly to the statehouse, followed by thirty-two armed soldiers, who guarded the entrances to the court-room while the habeas corpus proceedings were in progress.

The court heard arguments on a motion of the petitioner to be admitted to bail pending a decision on the question of the court's jurisdiction, and took the matter under advisement. Mr. Moyer was then removed to the hotel in custody of the military.

Defying the detachment of cavalry which brought Moyer to appear before the supreme court, W. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Federation, attempted to hold a conversation with the prisoner while he was being taken from the train at the Union depot. Ordered to stand back by Capt. Wells, commanding the guard, he struck the officer in the face. In a second he was surrounded by a cordon of angry troopers, who struck at him with the butts of their carbines and beat him with six-shooters. That he was not killed by the excited soldiers is due to the action of the orderly of Captain Wells, who struck up the muzzle of a gun aimed at Haywood and rescued him from his position between two cars, where the guards had him cornered.

Placed under arrest, he was put in the middle of a hollow square of militiamen and marched to the Oxford hotel, near the depot. Here he again showed fight and was beaten into submission. His injuries consist of a deep cut on the left side of the head and one on the right side of his head, which almost severed the lower lobe of his right ear. When a demand was made by Police Captain Frank Lee for the release of Haywood on the ground that the military rule did not extend to Denver, General Bell replied that he intended to hold Haywood as a military prisoner and would shoot anyone who attempted to take him, but nevertheless, under orders from Governor Peabody Haywood was surrendered to Sheriff Armstrong and placed in the county jail.

Cracksmen Make Rich Haul.

Clay City, Ind., April 22.—The Farmers' and Mechanics' bank here was blown by robbers and $5,281 was secured. The cracksmen made good their escape and so far no clue has been discovered by the authorities. It is claimed that four men were seen driving at breakneck speed out of town immediately after the robbery. The bank building was nearly entirely demolished, every glass in the lower floor being shattered and one of the massive hinges from the safe was hurled across the street and demolished the glass front of a saloon. In addition to the $5,281 taken from the strong-box, individual deposits valued at $600 were taken.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Sprup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles 25; large size, 75c. At all Drggists.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Some of the Things Attracting Special Attention Just Now.

Indianapolis, April 22.—The vanguard to the Republican state convention crowd is arriving. It consists mostly of the party workers who will help the various candidates round up their organizations. All of the candidates will have headquarters established at the Hotel English by tomorrow night. Several have been there for a week. There is every indication that the convention will be a record-breaker for attendance, which is not consoling to Chairman Goodrich and Secretary Sims, who have charge of the arrangements, for they realize that the seating capacity of Tomlinson hall is going to be very limited. Judge Penfield's friends will come to Indianapolis in a special train Monday from the Twelfth district. The Sayre men in the Eleventh will also have a special, and it is very probable that there will be a Hanly special from the Tenth. Taylor, the other gubernatorial candidate, resides here, and his friends are already very busy. A ruling has been made that people who are not in their reserved seats fifteen minutes after the opening of the session will have to forfeit them. The ruling is made to avoid confusion. Secretary Sims said that one row of box seats will be reserved for the delegates in addition to the entire lower floor.

John C. Wingate, the "bard of Bristle Ridge," well-known member of the state tax board, who is always a familiar figure about the Republican state conventions, made his appearance today among the party workers at the hotel English. He has been lecturing the county and township assessors throughout the state and under the circumstances he says it would not be fair for him to take a decided stand for any candidate for governor. He is going to be one of the managers of the campaign of Leroy Nash of Tipton, from this on. The Ninth district promises to make a game fight for Nash. The latter is a very busy individual and has made a thorough canvass. It is said, however, that Hugh Th. Miller of Columbus, candidate for lieutenant governor, has done more traveling than any other aspirant, as he has visited all but three or four counties.

It is very likely that the name of General Lew Wallace will be placed at the head of the Republican national ticket in Indiana this year as the first candidate for presidential elector. The matter has been broached to General Wallace. He is not averse to the honor, but his health is very bad and for that reason he is holding back. The other man under consideration for presidential elector is J. D. Oliver, the millionaire manufacturer and philanthropist of South Bend. The presidential electors and four delegates at large will be selected before the rest of the ticket is named. Governor Durbin, Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge and Chairman J. P. Goodrich of the state committee will be the Indiana "big four" at Chicago. There will be no opposition. So far no names have been considered for alternate delegates at large.
